Myers Case Moved Slowly Yesterday, but May Be Concluded To-Night.

HOFFNER CANNOT BE FOUND

Poles on Porter Street Must Come Down—Personals and Briefs.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

Reports were current yesterday to the effect that Charles H. Myers, who is being tried on the charge of forgery of a check in the name of George Hoffner, will be held for examination on another charge before the case is over.

It was alleged that Myers forged a check to the amount of $10, using George Hoffner's name. Hoffner, the principal witness, disappeared and has not been heard from since. Frank Hall, a glass-blower, it is alleged, was told by Hoffner that Myers offered him $250 and a railroad ticket to any point he might designate, provided he would leave Myers' house at 1025 and 1026 Porter street, and that Myers was called yesterday by Commonwealth's Attorney Page concerning the matter—Messrs. Tunstall and Wrightsall. Mr. Tunstall said that Hall told him Hoffner described to him (Hall) what he had been offered and that Hall also said that he had later seen Hoffner in a saloon with a large roll of money.

Of course, no indictment can ever be brought against Myers on this charge unless Hoffner is found, and already every possible search has been made for him.

The original charge was being investigated all day yesterday, and up to 8 o'clock last night only one witness had been heard. The jury was kept together in the courthouse. It is possible that the case will be completed by to-night.

POLICE COURT.

The case of the Passenger and Power Company, charged with erecting power poles on Porter Street without a permit, was called in Police Court yesterday morning, and the Mayor ruled that the poles must come down within ten days, unless a permit shall have been secured from the Street Commission.

Susan was fined $2.50 and costs and her husband $5 and costs. They were also ordered to move at once. H. H. Wells, representing the accused, was fined $5 and costs.

William Gough, charged with being drunk, paid $2.50 and costs. Woodward & Co. were before the court charged with creating a nuisance in the alley between Decatur and Stockton streets and Fourth and Fifth streets. They were ordered to put the alley in proper condition.

Megaphone Man Here

J. HENRY SMYTHE, of Philadelphia.

J. Henry Smythe, Jr., of Philadelphia, the "grand old party megaphone man," began his career at the last Republican National Convention in Chicago, making his headquarters at the Coliseum platform just at the conclusion of the campaign. By using his megaphone and keeping time with a big silk American flag, he started a unison yell of "Roosevelt, Roosevelt, Roosevelt," which caught the popular attention, both within and outside of the great convention hall, until some twelve thousand people were cheering the future President. The Associated Press correspondent present at the time graphically described the stunt, saying that the volume of sound was so great and so lasting that the screaming of a hundred steam whistles could have been drowned in comparison.

The "megaphone man," as he became known, was an active party worker in the Roosevelt campaign of 1904, and in the party campaign in Pennsylvania. He is now taking a special course in finance and commerce at the University of Pennsylvania.

Fourteen Prominent Pennsylvanians Are Under Indictment for Crime.

TREASURER MAKES EXPOSURE

William H. Berry's Allegations of Wholesale Theft Are Fully Sustained.

HARRISBURG, PA., September 18.—

The long-expected arrest of those held to be responsible for the frauds committed in the furnishing and decorating of Pennsylvania's $12,000,000 Capitol was made to-day, the Attorney-General causing warrants to be issued for fourteen of the eighteen persons and firms named by the Capitol Investigation Commission as being involved in the scandal. Those for whom warrants were issued are:

Joseph M. Huston, architect, and his active assistant, Standford B. Lewis, both of Philadelphia.

John H. Sanderson, Philadelphia, chief contractor for furnishing.

Congressman H. Burd Cassell, Marietta, treasurer and executive officer of the Pennsylvania Construction Company, contractors for steel filing cases.

James H. Shumaker, Johnstown, Pa., former Superintendent of Public Grounds and Public Buildings, who received for the furnishings.

Contractors Are Included.

George F. Payne and his partner, Charles G. Wetter, both of Philadelphia, builders of the Capitol, and contractors for the $300,000 attic.

William D. Snyder, Spring City, Pa., former Auditor-General, who approved the warrants of the contractors.

William L. Mathews, Media, Pa., former State Treasurer, who paid the bills of the contractors.

Charles F. Kistner, Wallis Boileau, John A. Neiderer and George K. Storm, all of Philadelphia, stockholders in the Pennsylvania Bronze Company, organized by Sanderson for the manufacture of the $2,000,000 hanging fixtures.

Frank Irvine, auditor in the auditor-general's office, who audited the accounts of the contractors.

Nearly all the defendants appeared during the day, waived a hearing, and entered bail for their appearance in the Dauphin County Court.

Bail by Surety Companies.

The principal defendants were held in $50,000 bail, which was furnished in every instance by surety companies. All the defendants are charged with conspiracy to cheat and defraud the State by making false invoices, which were proved by Huston and Shumaker.

Charges of obtaining money by false pretense were also entered against Sanderson, Congressman Cassell, Payne and Wetter, it being alleged that they furnished fictitious bills for a greater amount than they were entitled to receive under their contracts.

The action to-day was the outcome of an allegation made by State Treasurer William H. Berry during the campaign of 1905. He started the action by making false invoices, according to the State Treasury books, the building and furnishings of the State Capitol had cost $12,000,000 and not $5,000,000, and that $5,000,000 of the money went to furnish one building. He charged $5,000,000 of the $9,000,000 was pure "graft."

Governor Pennypacker and other State officials and the contractors denied the charges, but the agitation for an investigation, which immediately continued until the last Legislature appointed a commission to investigate the whole affair.

QUAKER CHURCH, AGAIN

Rumor That Negroes Have Bought the Property Not Believed.

There was a renewal of talk yesterday regarding the probable sale of the Friends' Meeting House, on Clay Street, to a wing of the congregation of the Fifth Street Baptist Church, which was in a position to throw any light on the situation.

Mr. R. A. Hicks, whose brother is the only person authorized to sell, will not talk concerning the matter, and his brother is spending a vacation at some summer resort.

Property holders in that vicinity, who recently banded themselves together to prevent the sale of the property, contended people, if possible, do not believe there has been any tangible move in the matter. They have offered Mr. Hicks all he asks for the property when he shall desire to sell, and they feel that all things being equal, they would have the preference.

Wilson, Chattanooga, Tenn.; General Superintendent, Rev. Dr. P. A. Babb, Columbus, O.; Recording Secretary, Rev. S. E. Nicholson, Harrisburg, Pa.; Corresponding Secretary, J. L. Ewin, Washington, D. C.; Treasurer, Foster Cochran, Columbus, O. The present vice-presidents were re-elected with these additions: Bishop H. C. Morrison, Birmingham, Ala.; Bishop William N. MacVicker, Providence, R. I.

Bishop Van de Vyver Home

Looking very well and happy, Bishop Van de Vyver returned early yesterday morning after a three-and-a-half months' visit to Europe. The bishop's arrival was unheralded and informal, as he did not wish any display. He arrived on the 2:50 P. M. train of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, and went immediately home. Wearing after his long trip from the North, he retired early to bed and could not be seen when a reporter called at the episcopal residence.
